

Patriot Industries Announces the Launch of Lucky Conduit, Global Sources, American Service™

Louisa, VA— December 13, 2018 — Today, Patriot Industries announces the launch of its globally sourced Lucky Conduit Brand for distributors who mainly focus on OEM or non-government projects.

In 2018, in the face of rising steel costs, the US-based manufacturer expanded its EMT & GRC Elbow, Nipple, and Coupling offering to include a high-quality import line as a supplement to the well established domestic Patriot line. The Lucky Conduit Brand offers a lower cost alternative, while retaining the world class service provided by Patriot's Fast & Free Delivery system (Patriot Blue™) and its domestic production capabilities which will fill any shocks in the supply chain.

"I'm excited to offer such a unique value to the electrical industry. The combination of Patriot Industries and Lucky Conduit provides a one-stop shop for our distributors. We are the only US manufacturer to offer both domestically produced and globally sourced EMT & GRC Elbows, Nipples, & Couplings." said Tom Click, President & CEO of Patriot Industries."
